Auto Driver Has A Narrow Escape

At 4:30 P. M. last Sunday Manual Gazmun, a Porto Rican at the wheel of a Ford car belonging to George Freeland of Lahaina crashed into a telephone post near the junction of the Main road and Waikapu Village roads. The car keeled over and one of the driver's legs was cut off at the thigh. An investigation shortly after the mishap disclosed the fact that Gazmun escaped death only through a miracle. He is now at the Malulu Hospital.

It appears that the accident was the result of an attempt on the part of the driver to avoid a collision with one of the Maui Garage and Transportation cars coming down from Waikapu and driven by John Mahalo. Mahalo is held blameless, for at the time of the accident his car was running at a moderate speed, whereas the wrecked machine had been going at a pretty fast clip.

Will Teach Kiddies The Useful Arts

While industrial work and vocational training has been given in the past to pupils of the higher grades in the public schools on Maui in the past, a new departure in this work is to be inaugurated this year by L. L. Summers, formerly principal of the Maui High School, who is now vocational instructor. Mr. Summers is a great believer in starting while a child is young, and the vocational work will be introduced into the primary grades this year. Simple industrial arts will be taught to the primary pupils. At the Kilauaea school this summer where Mr. Summers successfully conducted demonstration classes, he showed how even the smallest child can be taught to make useful articles.

WILL GIVE RECEPTION FOR NEW TEACHERS

Tomorrow evening the Makawao Ladies Aid Society will hold their regular monthly social evening at the Paia Community. The gathering is intended more as a reception for the new Maui teachers and all are cordially invited. Dancing will take place after the reception.

Fire Last Week Caused A Scare

Near fires are getting to be quite the fad in Waialuku nowadays. Late last Friday afternoon it looked as if Judge McKay's home was going up in smoke and in a few minutes hundreds of people directed their steps up Vineyard Street.

It develops that a big rubbish heap on the slopes of Iao River in the rear of the house was set on fire. It did not take long to start dry underbrush and wood ablaze. When the alarm for the fire engine was turned in all was flames and rolling smoke, but it was soon under control.

THE OLD ORDER PASSETH AWAY

William Kahale, who was born on the island of Hawaii on April 5, 1820, the year of the arrival of the first missionaries, died Sunday at the Queen's hospital in Honolulu. He was 99 years, five months and 16 days old. Death resulted from an infection of the foot. He had resided at No. 3 Christley lane, Honolulu. On the death report there was no record of his parents. He was a retired farmer. Funeral services were held Monday and the remains interred in Ocean View cemetery.

The aged man left no relatives as far as can be learned.

Molokai Baseball May Form A League

Last Saturday and Sunday the baseball bug struck Molokai and two games the like of which have never been seen on the island were pulled off between the Kaunakakai and Kalaupapa nines, the former aggregation taking both contests, 7 to 6, and 1 to 0.

Ah Leong's wonderful pitching on Sunday was responsible for his team's victory. The ex-Lahaina slabster pitched a no hit no run game and anned 14 men. Burrows who opposed him worked in fine fashion but the one run obtained in the first inning beat him.

There are many good players on the island and with the great interest shown by the people in the game it will not be surprising to hear of the formation a regular league over there.

Aiken Boosts Maui To Honoluluans

During the week that Worth O. Aiken spent in Honolulu, from which he has just returned, his time was occupied almost entirely with boosting for the Maui Fair and the Civic Convention to be held in October. Mr. Aiken spoke before the Ad Club, the Rotary club, and on Balboa Day addressed the gathering of the Pan-Pacific club, in front of the Army & Navy Y. M. C. A., telling of the great improvements there would be this year at the Maui fair and urging all who could to attend the fair and the Civic Convention. He assured them that everything would be done by Maui people to give them anything in the way of entertainment they wanted, those who wanted to visit the mountain could do so, if they wanted to go to church, they would be provided with any denomination they wished, and if they preferred to sit up all night enjoying themselves in games peculiar to men, why the sheriff would be warned not to make any arrests. Mr. Aiken returns from his visit filled with enthusiasm and confident that there will be the biggest crowd visit Maui this year that has ever come down.

NEWS ALONG AUTO ROW

A big shipment of cars was received from the Hyades yesterday morning by the Royal Hawaiian Sales company. Classified the shipment is as follows: 6, 490 Chevrolets; 1 Hupmobile; 1 Oldsmobile; 1 Cole Aero-8 4 pass.; 1 Cole Aero-8, 7 pass.; 2, 2-ton Pierce Arrow trucks and 2, 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

Nearly 300 Ask For Birth Certificate

After several weeks of hard work Eben S. Cushingham, chief clerk in the office of the Secretary of Hawaii, left last Friday for Honolulu with his staff. Cushingham, together with Leon K. Sterling and James H. Hakulele Hawaiian-Japanese interpreter, has been busy gathering the birth records of children born of alien parents on Maui. There were 285 applications for Hawaiian birth certificates investigated, and it is probable that 250 at least will be granted.

WILL TEACH ON MAUI

Among the new teachers who have come to Maui for the Fall term are several Chinese young women. Miss Samang Leong of Hilo has arrived on Maui to teach at Puunene school. Miss Lizzie Tseu, a graduate of the Honolulu Normal school came down last week to take up her duties as teacher at Kihel.

Miss Mabel Wilcox, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. Akana in Honolulu for the past month, was a passenger on the Mauna Kea last Saturday.

VISITING AT GOVERNOR'S HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burns of Maui are the guests of Governor and Mrs. McCarthy at Washington Place in Honolulu.

Wireless Phone On Maui, Is Now Plan

According to a story which appeared in the Star-Bulletin of Honolulu last week, Waialuku is to be connected to Honolulu by wireless telephones. The article states that the Von Hamm Young Company will have placed orders for and expect shortly to receive instruments with which to install a wireless telephone system between the main branch in Honolulu and the Waialuku and Hilo branches of the company, and other branches throughout the territory. Hilo and Waialuku will be the first points connected up with Honolulu. When the system is completely installed there will be a working radio of 400 miles.

RETURNS AFTER FIRST REST IN 33 YEARS

Returning on the Lurline with Sister Leopoldina of the Bishop Home, Molokai Settlement at Kalaupapa, was Sister Paneratia who will come to Maui for service at the Malulu Hospital, Waialuku. Sister Damien, also came on the Lurline and will be a teacher in the Sisters' school at Waialuku, while Sister Leopoldina will return to her work at Kalaupapa, which she left for the first time in 33 years ten months ago.

Contests Will Bring Many To Maui Fair

There will be many contests held at the Maui County Fair, sufficient in number and variety to attract almost any kind of person in the community. For instance there will be the milking contest, the dressed carcass contest, the boys and girls pig club contest, and all will attract considerable attention and many adherents. One of the liveliest however, will undoubtedly be the horseshoeing contest, at which the sparks will fly. There are a number of good horseshoers on the island every one of which will be willing to show that an automobile may have interesting innards, and be able to look pretty on the outside, but that a horse is still a useful animal, and the man who can successfully shoe one is not to be sneezed at.

Its Lonesome Now Round Case's Home

Attorney Dan H. Case has sold his chickens. This is about the last step in the depletion of his home and ranch, with the exception of selling the ranch and the fruit trees, he says. Six weeks ago he says that his daughter Cleo left for the coast to take a position. A week later, Althea started off to the mainland to enter school. Shortly thereafter his wife went to Honolulu for a visit. This was bad enough, and Dan is keeping the Inter-Island well supplied with money while he makes week-end visits, but when his Japanese gardener struck and left, the house was pretty well deserted. So in order to make the job complete Dan has sold his hens, and now the old farm looks pretty lonesome. The hens were good hens too. In these days of high prices they were furnishing Dan with as many as 20 eggs a day from an aggregation of 26 hens, which we aver is doing well. But week-end trips by Dan and no one left to feed the chickens was kind of hard on the barnyard end of the household, and so he has disposed of them. However, he assures us that he is still going to stay in Maui, so we are of the opinion that when Mrs. Dan Case returns, and Althea and Cleo that probably the Japanese gardener will also come back, and maybe the excellent chickens, and Maui will breathe easier and not be worried over the possibility of losing Dan Case too.

OSMERS—NAPOLEON

Dr. William Osmers and Miss Emma Napoleon were married in Honolulu last Wednesday morning and after the ceremony took the steamer for Hawaii to spend their honeymoon at the volcano. Dr. Osmers arrived from the Coast on Tuesday morning where he had gone on a vacation. Upon their return Dr. and Mrs. Osmers will make their home on Vineyard St.

Auto Drivers Would Form Association

Claim No Intention Of Raising Rates
But Would Establish Uniform List
Of Charges—Remains To Be Seen

The time is not far distant when Maui will have a chauffeur's association. The leading garage owners and chauffeurs are in favor of such a move. Some of the rent car drivers, more so among the Japanese, are keeping away, but as soon as they are made to understand that they will be protected as well as their patrons, they will be trooping in.

The men actively engaged in promoting the association have no intention of raising the price of car hire. Their main object is to see that a uniform rate is established.

In such an eventuality each member of the association will be given a rate schedule upon which will be the rates to be charged from one destination to another. This schedule will cover all routes on Maui and overcharges will thus be kept to a minimum.

Athletic Committee Hold Meeting Lively

One of the hottest meetings of the Athletic Committee of the Maui County Fair and Racing Association was held last Friday evening in the chamber of commerce rooms on High street.

The meeting was presided over by Ralph A. Wadsworth. Other members of the committee in attendance were Messrs. Joaquin Garcia, Joseph Meinecke, George Cummings and Jim Fantom.

Others present were Joe Medeiros, and Gomes Paschoal managers of the Waialuku and Puunene Ball clubs respectively. Paia and Lahaina were not represented. The entertainment committee of the coming Fair, composed of Ralph Wilson, chairman; Clem Crowell and George Cummings was also on hand.

Most of the evening was spent in discussion over the coming of a ball team to participate in a series during the Fair week. Somehow or the other the Fair heads left the matter in the hands of the entertainment committee of which Mr. Wilson is chairman instead of the Athletic Committee under whose auspices baseball and sports in general come in. It was finally decided that the entertainment committee see to the baseball end, the members of the other committee pledging their individual support. The resignation of Secretary-Treasurer Joaquin Garcia was tendered in the course of the evening but the other members of the Athletic Committee would not accept it.

Distribution of the receipts for the season derived by the Maui Baseball League was another matter taken up. Waialuku received for its share $105; Puunene, runners up, got $75 and Lahaina and Paia, tied in the number of games won and lost, each received $60. The sum of $197 was kept in the sinking fund. The Junior League finances will probably be attended to at the next meeting.

PARENTS AFRAID OF MANY WINDOWED ROOM

On the plea that the building contained too many windows, the parents of Helen Taburo, a one-year old Filipino baby, refused to allow their child to remain at the Children's Hospital, where she had been taken as the result of injuries received in a fall from a lanai Monday afternoon, according to the Advertiser.

The child fell a distance of 20 feet at the Taburo home in the Palama district, and the hysterical mother rushed with it to the Palama Settlement where the nurse administered first-aid treatment. Examination at the emergency hospital later developed that the child probably had suffered internal injury and it was transferred to the Children's Hospital but the parents removed it before the doctor could arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. Worth Aiken who went to Honolulu to place their daughter in school, were returning passengers on the Mauna Kea last Saturday.
